McDonald Elected Acting Chairman For Supervisors

With the charge hurled from the audience that the decision was "all cut and dried," Fred E. Beer of San Mateo Tuesday was appointed by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to the post of county controller to fill the unexpired term of the late Thomas J. Kane.

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame was named temporary chairman following the resignation of Beer.

Beer's appointment was unanimous in the public meeting, but it was revealed following the meeting there was a 2-2 deadlock in the caucus session. Two of the supervisors voted for Beer and two for Ira A. (Bill) Boynton, chief deputy county controller.

One of the supervisors argued for appointment of Mrs. Edith M. Kane, widow of the late controller, it was reported, but he voted for Boynton when the first ballot in the caucus session was taken. In the interests of harmony, however, a unanimous decision was reached before the supervisors went into the public meeting. The supervisors arrived at their unanimous decision at 10:55 a.m., five minutes before the opening of the public meeting.

Chairman Beer submitted his resignation from the board of supervisors at 12:22 p.m. after all other items on the agenda had been passed on. Beer's resignation was necessary before he could be appointed controller.

After the appointment of Beer was made, H. A. Harrison, past commander of Redwood City American Legion Post 105, arose in the audience and exclaimed, "It seems this was all cut and dried before this came up."

Harrison argued that Mrs. Kane was entitled to the job. He pointed out she has one son in service, another who has been in the service and a third who soon will enter the service. He said that in the past when there were instances of pressure groups worked for members of the families of the deceased, but said there was no pressure brought to bear upon the supervisors on behalf of Mrs. Kane.

Harrison declared he would organize a World War II veterans group, to be known as World War II Veterans Progressive League of San Mateo County, and promised to put up World War II veterans as candidates for county offices at the next election. He said veterans and their families were entitled to consideration.

Acting Chairman McDonald rebutted Harrison's charge, declaring the appointment was not "cut and dried."

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey, who is reported to have held out for appointment of Mrs. Kane, likewise declared the appointment was not "cut and dried." He said he had not discussed the matters with other members of the board until this morning's caucus session.

"You have expressed my opinion as I expressed it to the board," Hickey told Harrison. He added, however, "Don't go away with the impression it was cut and dried."

Harrison said he was speaking as an individual and not as a representative of the American Legion.

Beer's resignation as supervisor from the Second Township took effect immediately after Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch of Half Moon Bay moved that his resignation be accepted and it was voted on.

Hatch moved that Beer be appointed as controller and Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds of Redwood City moved that nominations be closed. Hatch remarked that he regretted "the untimely passing of our controller and my sympathy is with his family."

In moving for Beer's appointment, Hatch pointed out he had been active in county government for 10 years.

Beer will start his new duties tomorrow. He said it was his desire for Boynton to remain as chief deputy.

The supervisors adjourned in honor of Mr. Kane.

With the resignation of Supervisor Chmn. Fred E. Beer creating a vacancy on the board of supervisors from the Second Township, backers of their favorite candidates lined up sides today.

San Mateo Central Labor Council last night instructed Secty. Carl Cohenour to wire Governor Warren informing him the council endorses Richard McAllister, San Mateo city councilman and labor leader, to the vacant post.

Backers of Martin A. Poss, San Mateo civic leader and florist, also have reported sending telegrams to Governor Warren, urging his appointment to the supervisorial position.

County Aide Found Guilty Of False Claim

Arthur Hiram Johnson, former special investigator in Dist. Atty. Gilbert Farrell's office, Tuesday was sentenced in Federal Court to two months in jail, followed by two years' probation, for making false claims of citizenship, the Associated Press reported.

The 49-year-old Johnson, a native of Liverpool, England, claimed U. S. citizenship on Feb. 6, 1942, when he registered for voting in San Mateo County, and when he registered for the draft with the Redwood City Selective Service Board in April of that year.

He told federal investigators he suffered from amnesia and was hazy about things which happened in his life prior to 1933 or 1934.

Dr. Maier I. Tuchler, psychiatrist who examined Johnson at the direction of the court, told Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman today he was certain Johnson did not have amnesia, but had merely built up a "defensive state of mind" about his citizenship since he had entered the country illegally many years ago, consistently claimed U. S. citizenship afterwards, and found it convenient to plead faulty memory whenever questions grew embarrassing.

Judge Goodman announced in court he was in some doubt about the sentence, since the probation department recommended probation, pointing to Johnson's good record in some respects, while the FBI and U. S. Attorney's office felt Johnson's punishment should be more severe. The latter two, the judge pointed out, suggested Johnson could have been more helpful during an eight-month investigation to establish the facts.

Johnson, who pleaded guilty to the two counts on Feb. 20, will serve his jail term at Sneath Farm, the probation officer declared Tuesday afternoon.

Indicted by a federal grand jury on Jan. 10, Johnson went to work in the San Mateo County District Attorney's office five years ago, resigning his position in December at the request of District Attorney Ferrell.

At the time the charges were brought against him, Johnson told newsmen, "I don't know! I always thought I was native born, but now the FBI tells me I was born in England. I've got to get straightened out." He claimed a nervous breakdown "a number of years ago," affected his memory.

Johnson, who married the former Marion Buffington Hosmer of Redwood City on Mar. 11, 1944, came to this country as a British seaman in 1918, jumping ship at New York, FBI agents declared.

He was previously married to the present Mrs. Bertha Scroggins who now resides in Montara, having met her in Texas prior to their wedding in 1927.

Needy Receive $62,919 in Aid

In San Mateo County, $62,919 was paid in aid to the needy for the one month of January, 1945. The state contributed $29,425 of this amount, the federal government $25,149, and $8345 came from county funds, California Taxpayers' Assn. stated today. These payments include aid to the needy aged, blind, dependent children, and county indigents.

During the last completed fiscal year, the state provided $48,654,431 in subventions for welfare alone throughout California and the federal government provided $43,565,000, the association said. State subventions for welfare took about a third of total state subventions in the year ending June 30, 1944, with $48,654,431 going for this purpose, $22,686,696 for highways, $78,447,517 for education, and $10,932,918 for miscellaneous purposes. Total state subventions expended by local governments in California in fiscal 1944 amounted to $160,712,562.

Library Collects Funds for Books

Collection of money for the Treasure Chest fund which will be used to furnish books to children in liberated countries will continue at the Redwood City Library until Mar. 10, Miss Margaret Goodloe, children's librarian who is in charge of the drive, said today.

"Through contributions averaging a penny a child, we hope to furnish books on life in America, to cnildren in foreign lands. At later dates, when it is possible, the movement may be changed into an exchange of books, providing a means for children to understand other countries," she explained.

Miss Clara B. Dills, San Mateo County librarian, is in charge of the Treasure Chest fund for the county.

Dance With Stars to Whiteman Music!

The lucky girl dancing with crooner Dick Haymes at the Philco "Radio Hall of Fame Canteen" is WAVE Mary McConlouge of Harrison, N. J. "Pops" Whiteman, whose orchestra plays for the "Canteen" following the BLUE Network broadcast every Sunday afternoon, can be seen in the background urging his musicians on. The hour-long dance for service personnel, a regular feature of the "Radio Hall of Fame" show, takes place in the gorgeous Earl Carroll theatre-restaurant in Hollywood and is sponsored by the Hollywood Guild Canteen, which supplies beautiful partners for the servicemen.

Shopping District Boom Seen in Architectural Plans

Shopping facilities in Redwood City are going to be enlarged after the war in the opinions of Ole Oleson and E. B. F. Ridgeway who have already invested $65,000 in a 10-acre plot north of Broadway between Maple and Chestnut Sts.

Oleson claims that the new district will be something entirely new in that it will cater to the motor age. Land sold for shops in the district will be 50 feet wide and 200 feet deep. Of the 200 feet, 130 feet will be devoted to double-front stores, 20 feet to alleyway and 50 feet to parking lots. Directly behind the plots a new road will be cut so that shoppers can drive on to the grounds owned by the shop where they intend to do business.

Window shopping can be handled from both sides of the stores, Diagonal parkers on Broadway will see one window display and those parking behind the buildings another.

Oleson said he and his partner would only sell to purchasers who guarantee to build as soon as material becomes available.

"We're not going to have a lot of vacant lots marring the section," he explained.

Builders will also have to follow a pre-designated architecture so that buildings will be similar in appearance, he said.

Behind the shopping district north to Bayshore Hwy., the partners are planning a district for small industry.

Planned is a spur line rail track from the Chestnut St. line. Over this half-acre industries will be able to ship. Oleson said that no large, smoky or noisy industries will be permitted in this zone for the protection of the shopping district.

It will be an ideal zone, he claimed, because of the availability of transportation facilities and because he and his partner intend to sell the land reasonably.

Plans for both the shopping and industrial zones are as yet still in the planning stages. The partners are dealing with the planning commission to have an alley moved back to allow 130 feet for the stores. They are also dealing for the spur lines. Both these desires, they think, will go through without too much difficulty.

"When the postwar woman of the family," Oleson said, "goes out in the family car to buy she'll find it a lot easier than at present. Practically all her parking troubles will have vanished as a result of this scheme. We're convinced it will work."

Hospitals Seek More Nurses Aides

More nurses aides are needed to serve at Palo Alto, Mills Memorial and Community Hospitals in order to offset the wartime shortage of nurses, Mrs. Edward Eyre, chairman of the Redwood City Red Cross Nurse's Aide Corps, announced today.

"There are 40 nurse's aides who have served 9217 hours in the community hospitals and authorities have requested more aides to serve," she declared.

Nurse's aides, carefully trained to perform non-professional tasks in hospitals as aides to registered nurses are serving in military hospitals as well, Mrs. Eyre pointed out. More than 2322 civilian hospitals, 232 army hospitals, 29 veterans' hospitals and 1564 clinics and other health centers in the nation are using Red Cross nurse's aides, she said.

"There is no immediate prospect of large numbers of nurses being released from military and naval service to return to civilian duty, the local chairman asserted.

"Therefore, the need for nurse's aides to assist hospitals in making best use of the remaining nures continues. Women of Redwood City can do their part by becoming nurse's aides so that we can protect community health while our local registered nurses are away serving wounded fighting men."

Burning Gas Halts Traffic After Crash

Traffic on El Camino Real was temporarily halted and a large crowd gathered at Santa Anita Ave. in Lomita Park Monday at 12:05 a.m. when a box trailer, struck from behind by an automobile, caught fire and burning gasoline covered the highway, California State Highway patrolmen reported.

The trailer, being towed by Roy Hamilton Wonderly, 24, of 877 South 11th St., San Jose, was overtaken by a car driven by Jewel Edgar Ince, 34, who resides at the Millbrae Auto Court, patrolmen declared.

Knocked into Wonderly's automobile, the trailer broke open the gasoline tank, officers said, and the gasoline became ignited.

Wonderly, a merchant mariner, pulled his car free from the burning trailer which was almost completely destroyed by the flames.

Lomita Park firemen responded to the scene where they extinguished the blaze.

No one was injured in the freak accident, and damage to the automobiles was slight, patrolmen declared.

Van Gastelen Wins Extradition Fight

William Van Gastelen, 44-year-old man without a country, today won his fight with New York authorities who sought to take him back to New York as a parole violator.

Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt, who last week took the extradition case under submission, today granted Van Gastelen's application for a writ of habeas corpus and remanded Van Gastelen to the custody of the U. S. Immigration Department, to be held under a warrant of deportation.

Van Gastelen, who lost his Dutch citizenship when he served in the U. S. Army in World War I, will be placed aboard a ship as a seaman.

He had served a six-month term in jail here for disrupting and burglarizing a Daly City home. He served three years of a five to 10-year term in prison in New York for third degree burglary—theft of a $3.50 pair of shoes in 1939—and New York authorities contended he should be returned to New York on the ground he had violated his parole when he committed the Daly City burglary.

Jerome Macdonald of Redwood City, who represented Van Gastelen, contended Van Gastelen was never on parole, since he carried out the terms of his release from prison to board a Dutch vessel as a cook.

Club Deacon Sold

The Club Deacon on El Camino Real, Redwood City, has been sold by Steve Aimo to Andrew Dezso for an indicated price of $18,000. Peninsula Homes handled the transaction. The deed was recorded at request of San Mateo County Title Co.

Redwood City Taxpayers Asked to File

C. C. McKellip, deputy income tax collector in Redwood City, warned today that all persons earning more than $500 must file income tax returns by midnight, Mar. 15.

Tax advisers in the board of supervisors office on the San Mateo County Court House third floor have been assisting between 50 and 60 filers daily, he continued, and expect that number to rise as the deadline approaches.

McKellip urged that filers use Form 1040 rather than W2 because rebates can be returned more quickly that way. Only persons eligible to file W2 are those earning less than $5000 of which no more than $100 comes from sources other than salaries. W2 is furnished by employers and when filled out is mailed to income tax collectors who then figure the actual tax and mail filers either a bill or a return.

Persons earning more than $5000 plus $500 for each dependent, or those in business for themselves and therefore not receiving salaries, or those with incomes of more than $100 other than their salaries must file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax by Individuals (Form 1040-ES). This form supplements 1040 in the same manner that W2 does. It provides a withholding tax through the year on which the actual tax next year will be figured.

Form 1040 is divided into two sections. Page 1 is the short form to be used by those filers whose incomes are from salaries. Page 3 is for those deriving their income from annuities or pensions, rents and royalties or businesses and professions.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco, Harold Berliner, collector, said that cash should not be sent through the mail to pay federal taxes. Postal authorities and internal revenue employes, he said, will not be responsible for any money lost in the mails.

Red Cross Reports $11,803 Donated

Donations toward the 1945 War Fund Drive currently being conducted by the Redwood City Chapter, American Red Cross, total only $11,803 after one week of solicitations, Mrs. William Baxter, chairman of the drive, said today.

Of the total, $4600 was turned in by Atherton section of the Menlo-Atherton branch of the chapter, she said.

The totals to date, although partly incomplete, represent approximately one-fourth of the total quota of $50,000, although the drive is nearly one-half completed, she declared.

Added to the name of colonels in the current drive—Redwood City club representatives who are canvassing the city—is Steve Fratti of the Redwood City Nest of Owls, Mrs. Baxter announced.

City Council Approves Plans For Laying New Sidewalks

Passing a resolution of intention, Redwood City councilmen last night set Apr. 2 as date of a hearing at which property owners may protest construction of sidewalks in an area in western Redwood City.

The district, included an overall program calling for construction of nearly three miles of sidewalks all through the city, will cover proposed sidewalks on Nevada St. between Whipple and James Ave., Myrtle St. between Hopkins and Katherine Aves., Lowell St. between Hopkins and Brewster Aves., Hopkins Ave. between Myrtle and Nevada Sts., Brewster Ave. between Myrtle St. and Opal Ave., Katherine Ave. between Myrtle and Nevada Sts., and Outer Circle between Nevada St. and Brewster Ave.

Divided into units, the project of sidewalk improvements was recommended to the council in December by City Mgr. Robert W. Mead, who had undertaken a survey of conditions last year.

Completion of the project, if approved by more than half the property owners affected, will add 14,360 feet of 5-foot wide cement sidewalks to the city.

At last night's meeting, the council accepted the resignation of O. S. Oleson as a member of the recreation commission. Oleson said his action followed the recent interpretation of Section 77 of the City Charter by City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy.

The application of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Whitford to conduct a restaurant at 817 Winslow St. was denied by the council pending approval of the health inspector. Insp. Emil Stein reported to the council that the proposed site of the restaurant had no sanitary facilities, and recommended the license be denied until such facilities were installed.

Attorney McCarthy reported that two lots owned by Mrs. D. L. Walter on Spring, Beech and Cedar Sts. would bring a combined price of approximately $1200, and the matter, which involved a request from Mrs. Walter for cancellation of part of tax delinquencies on the property was ordered carried over to the next meeting.

Mrs. Walter had offered to pay $680 of $2315.34 in delinquencies against the property at a previous meeting, and the council had requested McCarthy's investigation in order to check possibilities for sale of the property to which the city already possesses a tax deed.

First step in clearing vacant lots of weeds before the fire season sets in was undertaken by the council with the adoption of a resolution declaring weeds a nuisance.

A letter from James C. Ferrell of the state guard received the endorsement of the city council after Ferrell pointed out the need for additional recruits in the state guard. A civilian co-ordinator to aid in the recruiting will be appointed by the Redwood City War Council, the city councilmen decided.

Black Market Scheme Aired In Courtroom

Testimony of a meat company manager today highlighted the second day of the trial of four men—including two Peninsulans—charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with black market meat operations.

Testifying that two ship's stewards proposed to him in January that he split the profits in a scheme to divert meat from a government shipment and that three days later he turned over all his information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, El Roy Hinman, manager of the Ed Heuck Wholesale Butcher Co., identified the two stewards in U. S. District Court in San Francisco.

They were, he said, Julio Rodriquez and Pierre Francois Barrall, stewards on a troopship then tied up in Oakland.

Barral has pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to divert into the black market 17,832 pounds of choice meat, as has Lucian L. DeAngury, 47, San Francisco truck driver.

Rodriquez, along with Clarence V. Jacky, 44, official of the Millbrae plant where the government says the meat was stored, and Angelo Italo Vincenzini, 53, South San Francisco meat market proprietor, is on trial in Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman's court.

Also defendants in the action are George Patron, 42, and Fernand Chevillard, 44, co-proprietors of the Normandie French Restaurant in San Francisco, accused of purchasing the meat.

The seven men were arrested Jan. 24, after FBI agents recovered the meat at the Chips Steak Co. in Millbrae.

Hinman said the stewards told him there was more meat on board ship than the inventory showed and suggested he allow diversion from supplies he was to deliver to the troopship on government order.

On cross-examination today, Defense Counsel Leo Friedman, unsuccessfully attempted to find out if Hinman had billed the government for the diverted meat. When he was banned from this line of questioning on prosecution objection, he told the court that "if this man caused such an invoice to be be made, he is a co-conspirator."

Bronze Star For Aiding Jap Cleanup

For "aggressive fighting spirit and outstanding devotion to duty while a strongly organized Jap force on Saipan was being wiped out . . . duties which were in keeping with the highest tradition of the United States Naval Service," Marine Corps Lt. Charles F. Bendeich Jr. of Redwood City has been awarded the Bronze Star.

The marine release begins . . . "For heroic achievement while attached to a marine infantry battalion during action on Saipan June 30, Bendeich (who was then a sergeant) reorganized his squadron under intense enemy fire and led his men into a heavily wooded area on a combat patrol.

"This area was located behind the lines of his unit and contained a small force of well organized enemy troops. It was essential that this area be neutralized before dark. By use of demolitions and flame throwers, he completely destroyed enemy resistance.

Bendeich was commissioned on the battlefield shortly before the fight for Tinian. He enlisted in the marines on Jan. 19, 1942 and after "boot" training at San Diego, the 26-year-old officer left for overseas in September. He saw action at Tarawa as well as Tinian and Saipan, where he is now stationed. He is a graduate of Sequoia High School where he was a star basketball player. Prior to entering the marines, Bendeich worked for the Redwood City post office.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bendeich of 247 Hudson St. Lt. Bendeich's father was in the U.S. Army for 30 years and retired in 1923 with the rank of first sergeant. He recently retired from his position with the Redwood City postoffice which he held for 17 years. A sister of the young officer, Mrs. Louise B. Chastain, also lives in Redwood City.

The Cold Frame Story—How to Build and Use It.

One Victory garden task which can be done in the winter is to construct a cold frame. This is a job for manual training classes, amateur woodworkers or neighborhood groups. One cold frame will serve several small Victory Gardens.

The accompanying diagram shows a small cold frame made to fit the standard sash, 3 by 6 feet. It may be made twice this size, 6 by 6 feet, but as a rule no larger. It may be made to fit a sash of any convenient size if a substitute for glass is used to cover the sash. Many prefer a substitute for glass because it is light and does not break. An ideal type is made of a wire screen or a cloth covered with a transparent plastic material.

The cold frame depends upon the sun for its heat, and should always slope toward the south and have uninterrupted sunshine all day. The frame should be made of 1-inch or heavier lumber of cypress, white pine or some wood which resists rot. Using the illustration as a working plan, the frame and sash can be built now and held until the first thaws next month make it possible to dig a pit in which to install it.

Dig a shallow pit a bit larger than the frame, and set the frame so that at least four inches are below the surface. Then pile earth all around the outside, tamping it so that no drafts can enter. Earth should be banked against the frame several inches all around.

Soil should also be thrown in the pit inside the frame, so that the surface is level with the ground outside. While it is possible to sow seeds directly in the soil, it is better to use flats, or seed boxes, because they can be handled to better advantage when time comes for transplanting. The frame will serve the same purpose as a hotbed, except that it is started later, since artificial heat is lacking.

Pescadero Pair Liberated From Manila, Due Home Soon

Word that Mrs. Norris Stone, the former Imogene Bolstad, of Sunnyside Estate, Pescadero, was liberated when the Yanks took Santo Tomas internment camp in the Philippines was received by Mrs. Herbert Bolstad last week, it was learned here today.

Mrs. Stone, who with her husband, a mining engineer, resided in Manila before the war, has written four letters since her liberation on Feb. 3, the most recent stating that she and her husband were ready to leave for the States.

Stating that they were gaining weight and were well, Mrs. Stone had high praise for the American troops which entered the camp to free the internees.

Of the Japs she said, "they are not human; they're brutes—they starved us."

Mr. and Mrs. Stone, who were together during their internment, plan to reside at the Sunnyside Estate upon their return home.

News of their liberation came while Carpenter's Mate 3/c Herbert A. Bolstad, veteran of 23 months' service in the South Pacific, was visiting his mother while on a 30-day leave.

As a member of the 55th Naval Construction Battalion, Bolstad helped build naval installations and air facilities in Australia, New Guinea and the Schouten Islands.

Bolstad, who entered the service in October, 1942, was employed by the American Trust Co. before donning his uniform.

Mrs. Stone, 28, and her husband, 30, are graduates of the University of California.

She left Pescadero 2½ years before the outbreak of war in order to be with her husband who had been in Manila for five years.

During their internment, Mrs. Bolstad only once received direct word from them, although friends returning on the Gripsholm had communicated with her in regard to her daughter's welfare.

San Carlos Man Gets Legal Post

Edgar R. Bonsall, 416 Pearl Ave., San Carlos, has been appointed an assistant United States attorney, Frank J. Hennessy, chief of the government's legal department in San Francisco, has announced.

Hennessy received approval from James P. McGranery, assistant to U. S. Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle, for the transfer of Bonsall from the naturalization and immigration service to the United States attorney's staff.

Bonsall made a record as attorney in the prosecution of liquor cases for the government in the prohibition days. He has been with the naturalization service since the late Volstead Act was set aside.

Bonsall, who was notified of his appointment on Saturday, is director of the training groups at the Redwood City First Baptist Church and is a member of the San Carlos American Legion Post.

False Alarm Halts Firemen's Practice

While Redwood City firemen were conducting a drill last night, a false alarm sent them to Frank's Tannery east of Bayshore Hwy. where a Redwood City resident had seen flames from the city dump outlined against the tannery buildings and reported the establishment afire.

The call was the second during the day for the firemen who extinguished a small blaze in the kitchen floor in the home of D. A. Bishop, 177 Birch St., at 4:53 p.m.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

Have you noticed how much better certain commuters are looking since the midnight curfew went into effect? We also note that the early a.m. trains are better filled than formerly, indicating that more people are getting to work on time. With a reporter's insatiable curiosity about such things, we conducted our own survey of personal reactions to the midnight closing. Here are some of the results:

First Commuter: "Makes no difference to me when they close — I never patronize the joints anyway."

His Wife: "It sure is nice to have Elmer home again in the evenings."

Second Commuter: "Personally, I have no interest in the matter, because, as you know, I never frequent such places."

His Wife: "It may be pure coincidence, but Tom has been home every night since the curfew went into effect."

George Dixon quotes "Toots" Shor, New York night-club operator as saying: "Midnight closing is okay by me. Anyone who can't get tight by midnight isn't trying very hard." Shor's only complaint was that by going to bed at 12 o'clock, he would have to get up at 8, adding "What can a guy do at 8 o'clock in the morning?"

Club Sec. W. J. McKeegan (alias Locomotive Bill) is still being "taken for a ride" because of his failure to buy his February commute on time. Mac remarked how nice it was of the S.P. to mail out the card notices to individual commuters as well as placing the cards in the seats of trains. Mac said he received two cards through the mail. It so happened that Mac was the only one who received them, and they were NOT from the S.P. Some of Mac's friends are still kidding him about his dereliction. (The moral is: Never let a commuter get anything on you!)

Commuteramblings: Bert Morgan and his wife are back home after spending a week in Los Angeles, a business trip for Bert with the Missus going along for the ride. . . . Bill Curran spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Sacramento, another alleged business trip. (Bill and the governor are just like that!) . . . Frank Luda is now commuting to Palo Alto instead of to San Francisco. Frank has switched his furbusiness operations, we understand.

Clarence Brizee tells us that the Commuters' Red Cross team did "all right" in its solicitation Sunday, however no figures were quoted because the canvassing was not completed. We wish to record that no one called at 634 Brewster yesterday, although we sat there poised with pen in hand during most of the day. Just before retiring we noticed that last year's Red Cross sticker was still in the front window. Phooey on people who don't clean their windows oftener than once a year!

This is a tip for solicitors: Don't let last year's sticker fool you! And don't let this year's sticker stop you from asking if they gave in Redwood City. Commuters who feel compelled to give through their business affiliations in San Francisco will most likely be glad to contribute a few dollars here too. But you have to ask them! No one need ever feel apologetic when working for the Red Cross. It is an honor and a privilege both to solicit and to give.

William Smith Named To Replace E. W. Clapp

Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of the San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare, today appointed William Smith as business manager of Community Hospital, replacing Eugene W. Clapp, who died last week.

Smith, a retired army major and father of Bradlee Smith, assistant county purchasing agent, was acting business manager during Mr. Clapp's illness.

Redwood City Red Cross Gets Boost

Containing a contribution to the Redwood City War Fund Drive, a letter of appreciation from a San Francisco couple whose son, fighting in the Philippines, had received a Christmas kit mailed by the Redwood City Chapter of the American Red Cross, was received here today.

The letter, addressed to "Dear friends," states, "We recently received a letter from our son who is now in combat duty in the Philippines, stating that at Christmas time he received a kit from the Red Cross and it was from the Redwood City Chapter.

"He wanted us to thank you for him and we want to add our appreciation and thanks for the things the Red Cross is doing for him and his buddies.

"We are enclosing a contribution towards your present drive. Good luck and more power to you, for the excellent work you are doing on all fronts."

GARDEN for VICTORY

The time is here and the need is urgent for steady and serious work in your Victory Garden. Every bunch of vegetables and every bowl of berries and fruit you grow at home aids in the tremendous task of feeding the men and women who are fighting for us.

Let's do it again this year. Top the total of more than eight million tons of food grown in Victory gardens during the peak year of 1943. You will help food rationing. You will release more commercially grown and packed foods to our men and women in active service. You will help nourish back to health our men and women who lie in hospitals dreaming of their happy homecoming.

Dig hard, dig deep, dig often and keep a rotation of crops growing in your Garden for Victory. There is health and muscle tone-up in every spadeful of earth you turn over. There is nutritious good eating in every garden-fresh morsel of food you eat from your own garden. Plan—work—plant—now and keep at it.

Plan Huge North-County Building Project

Plans for construction of millions of dollars worth of homes in a subdivision in the north end of San Mateo County which is expected to be one of California's finest residential projects in the postwar era came to light today with the recording of the largest single land purchase in the county in almost two decades.

Henry Doelger, San Francisco builder who was the chief developer of the Sunset district in San Francisco, purchased 370 acres of property from Spring Valley Co., Ltd. formerly Spring Valley Water Co., for an indicated price of $631,000.

The property is Spring Valley holdings in San Mateo County on the San Francisco line, running west from Junipero Serra Blvd. to Skyline and surrounding Lake Merced, Olympic Club and San Francisco Golf and Country Club.

T. J. Hallinan of the California Pacific Title & Trust Co. here, who requested that the deed be recorded, said the subdivision will be one of California's finest residential projects in the postwar era.

Hallinan said the transaction was the largest land purchase in San Mateo County since 1929, when the Carolands was sold in Hillsborough.

The property was purchased by Doelger and deeded to Henry Doelger Builder Inc.

The office of Henry Doelger Builder Inc. reported the subdivision was a postwar project and that it would run into millions of dollars worth of homes. The office reported, however, there was nothing definite as to the number of homes nor the price range of the homes, but indicated they would be in the "nice" class.

One of the largest previous single land sales was the Carson-Monckton porperty on Woodside Rd., extending into the foothills about a mile south of the Redwood City city limits. The buyers of the 307 acres,

Haskin Scores Highest in Test

Receiving the highest score in both medical and psychological tests at Kessler Field, Miss., Ernest Haskin, 18, of Redwood City has been accepted for flying officer training, the army announced today. Cadet Haskin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haskin of 926 Whipple Ave.

He had just completed his fourth semester at the University of California at Berkeley where he was a sergeant in the R.O.T.C. when he was called up by the army air corps. He is a graduate of Washington High School in San Francisco.

His brother, David, is a sergeant in the army medical corps on a special assignment in the South Pacific. The 22-year-old soldier was going into pre-medical training at the University of California when he was inducted into the army in November. He is a medical technician engaged in the analysis of blood and other research with a corps of army doctors.

A Bride's Trousseau of Fine Irish Linens

IN anticipation of the time when she will be living in her own home, GI Joe's best girl is now assembling her trousseau of beautiful Irish linens, piece by piece, as she finds them in the stores — damask dinner cloths and luncheon sets, fine textured hand towels, carnival striped kitchen towels. And she's just as proud of her collection of fine Irish linens as the Connecticut bride for whom this handsome linen chest was made long before the American Revolution.

An enterprising Yankee fur trader on the West Coast once swapped a rusty iron chisel for $8000 worth of furs.

It is only six minutes by bomber plane from Dover, England, to Calais, nearest port in occupied France.

Hickey Attacks Health Board For Failure To Remain Active

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey Tuesday morning attacked the San Mateo County Board of Health and Welfare for its inactivity and asked other members of the board of supervisors why have a board if it doesn't function.

His charge against the body came after a letter was read from the Department of Public Health and Welfare proposing an addition to the County Relief Home for the hired help and a letter from County Executive Frederick Peterson recommending approval of the addition.

"There is no use of having these commissions if they don't function," Hickey declared, pointing out the board had not met in about two years.

"I don't know where the health board comes in on this," Supervisor Chmn. Fred E Beer said.

The matter was returned to Peterson with the request that further information be provided as to the need of the addition.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch questioned the need of re-employing a former inspector in the building inspector's office, as was requested by Bldg. Inspr. A. W. Russell. Russell based his request on increased building activity. Hatch however, pointed out the difficulty of securing lumber for buildings. The matter was continued to the next regular meeting, when Russell will be requested to be present.

The board approved a resolution setting Mar. 27 as the date of election of three directors of the Belmont Water Dist. It also approved a petition to abandon certain county highways in the Port San Francisco area, Belmont.

Several requests, among them one from the Redwood City City Council, urging establishment of a county veterans service officer, were referred to Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds, retired army lieutenant colonel.

A request by Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of the County Department of Public Health and Welfare, to establish a new position of public health analyst and registrar, at a salary scale of $170-$210 a month, was continued to the next regular meeting to allow the supervisors to study the request.

Officers Halt Car Theft Try

California State Highway Patrol Officers Frank Chevalier and H. J. Minton Sunday night were credited with halting a 16-year-old San Francisco boy who is wanted by San Francisco police on a car theft charge.

The officers noticed the youth driving through Daly City, and upon stopping his car, discovered a number of grease guns, lanterns, and flashlights.

The boy was taken to the San Mateo County Juvenile Home to await the arrival of San Francisco authorities.

Truck Dives into 10 Feet of Water

A San Jose truck driver escaped injury when he lost control of his 17-ton truck and careened into water 10 feet deep off Harbor Blvd. Saturday night at 8 o'clock, Redwood City police said today.

According to police, the truck driven by Carl John Trinadad, 35, of 496 Arletta St., San Jose, was returning from the Port of Redwood City when an automobile driven by Martin George Messenberg, 52, of 121½ Shotwell St., San Francisco, collided with the truck's front fender, causing Trinadad to lose control.

Trinadad, although thoroughly doused, climbed from the cab of the overturned truck without injury.

The truck, which was pulled back onto the road by midnight, was unloaded at the time.

Ft. Mason Employe Held on Theft Charge

Miles Pat Harrison, 29-year-old civilian employe at Ft. Mason in San Francisco, was taken into custody by Sgt. J. B. Shafer of the California State Highway Patrol in East Palo Alto Sunday night at 7 o'clock, after Harrison, driving an army staff car, was halted for investigation.

Harrison, charged with driving a stolen car and with drunken driving, gave his address as 129 R Emmet Court, San Francisco.

Jack Duttweiler Leaves for N.C.

Marine 1st. Lt. John R. (Jack) Duttweiler, son of Fred Duttweiler, 143 Somerset St., had left for Cherry Point, N. C., after a 30-day leave here. He had spent 15 months in the Central Pacific where he served as a Corsair pilot with a Fourth Marine Air Wing squadron.

Based in the Marshall Islands, Lieutenant Duttweiler flew bombing and strafing missions against Wotje and Maloelap atolls in the Marshalls. He blasted enemy airfields, gun positions and bivouac areas on Ponape in the Carolines, according to a marine corps report.

A graduate of Sequoia High School, Lieutenant Duttweiler attended San Jose State College before entering flight training in June, 1942. He won his wings and commission in May, 1943, and was promoted to his present rank in October of that year.

His brother, Lt. Fred Duttweiler, a navy pilot, recently participated in action in the Philippines.

Port of Redwood Shows Huge Operating Profits

During the 10 months preceding the navy's taking over the Port of Redwood City, the port had a net operating profit of $206,472.50, according to an auditor's report covering the fiscal year 1943-44 which was submitted to the Board of Port Commissioners last night.

The report, delayed by the failure of the port commissioners and navy officials to agree on rental for the port facilities since May 1, 1944, shows that 422,211 tons of cargo brought in gross revenue of $514,975.65.

During the year, $280,316.56 was invested in physical improvements at the port, including buildings, purchase of land, dredging, wharf construction, a railroad, construction of roads, and rocking and resurfacing of industrial lands.

Total assets of the port as of June 30, 1944, were valued at $1,054,504.41, the report declared.

The port paid into the city treasury $13,600, $5000 of which was for payment of interest on bonds and $8000 of which was for retirement of the $100,000 bond issue which originally financed the port.

Depreciation on port facilities totaled $25,261.20, according to the report.

Present bonded indebtedness of the municipally-owned port is only $209,000, port commissioners pointed out.

During the year, 55 ocean-going vessels visited the port, while 56 inland waterways vessels were serviced.

The report was incomplete in that the last two months of the fiscal year—May and June—were not included, since negotiations on the rental of the port are still pending.

The report also does dot include wharf 2, from which bulk cement is loaded.

Woman Leaves Bonds To Benevolent Assn.

Mrs. Alice M. Rossell of Redwood City, who died Jan. 24, left two $1000 war bonds to the Christian Science Benevolent Assn. of the Pacific Coast, San Francisco, her will filed for probate in superior court here today shows.

Mrs. Rossell left all community property to her husband, Frank H. Rossell, 1337 Jefferson Ave., owner of a Redwood City barber shop. She left several lots to a friend, Mrs. Clara Gray, 416 Chestnut St. Residue of the property was left to the Christian Science Benevolent Assn.

The will was dated Feb. 13, 1942.

Petitions To Curtail High Flight Costs

Petitions opposing the high airplane instruction charges of San Mateo, Belmont and San Carlos airports are being circulated by Peninsula residents, it was reported today. These airports are placing a $11 an hour rate on duo flying lessons and $8 for solos, it is being charged.

Another petition is also being passed aviation enthusiasts urging the government under the Civil Aeronautics Authority to open civilian flying for the Peninsula.

Beer Moves In —Hints Boost In Tax Rate

Former Supervisor Fred E. Beer this morning was sworn in as county controller by County Clerk William H. Augustus and he immediately reappointed all deputies in the office, including Chief Dep. Controller Ira A. (Bill) Boynton, who was a candidate for the post.

Beer posted a $3000 bond.

In his first "press conference" since becoming controller, Beer said there was no doubt that there would be an increase in the county tax rate for the next fiscal year. He did not make a prediction what the tax rate would be nor elaborate on his remarks, but among the big items expected to increase the rate are postwar construction projects.

A stepup in salary scales and the proposed new juvenile home also are expected to add to the rate.

Budgets from department heads were due in the controller's office Mar. 1 but several have not been turned in as yet, Beer said.

Meantime, a battle is on for a successor to Beer as supervisor from the Second Township. Candidates most prominently mentioned for the post are Martin Poss, San Mateo civic leader and florist, and Richard McAllister, San Mateo city councilman and labor leader. Some political observers saw the possibility, however, that if the fight for the two from opposing sides becomes too strong, Governor Warren may appoint a compromise candidate.

Gardening Calms War Anxieties

"For the person who is on edge, anxious and sleepless, and has a heavy heart, there is no more hope-inspiring, restful, healthful recreation than gardening."

This high appraisal of a phase of the Victory garden campaign which is seldom considered, comes from Frederick P. Moersch, M. D., a neurologist of the Mayo clinic Rochester, Minn.

In an article on "Health and Contentment in Gardening," published in the Minnesota Horticulturist, Dr. Moersch continues: "One might speak properly of gardening as a 'work' cure. Physical health and mental health go hand in hand, and with our physical programme of gardening we should be in a better position to maintain or gain mental health.—* * *

"Of all hobbies, gardening is one of the simplest, most satisfying and salutary. Nature has a way of beckoning us, but its simplicity may fail to impress us in our hasty and superficial search for happiness. The very simplicity of gardening is one of its chief assets. * * *

"Gardening, like any constructive hobby, tends to grow and new interests are added rapidly. * * * As the gardener's interests take root the leisure moments of the day and troubled hours of the night are turned to constructive thinking. Health thoughts gradually replace melancholy thoughts. The evil spirits of anxiety, worry, and fear find it more and more difficult to intrude themselves upon us. In place of wakeful nights worrying about things we cannot help, it becomes possible to plan the work for the morrow enjoyably and fall asleep dreaming of roses rather than stubborn sheep."

Gardening as a therapeutic occupation is being extensively used at service hospitals in this country and abroad.

R.C. Boy Scout News

Plans for an all-out effort in collecting all available wastepaper for conversion into badly needed containers for supplies moving up to the battlefronts of the world were laid in a meeting of scout leaders last Thursday at the council branch scout office in the library building.

The date of the collection by Scouts, Cubs and Sea Scouts has been set for Apr. 8 and householders are urged to save and bundle old newspapers and magazines for collection on that date.

Frank DePatta, city salvage chairman will assist the scout leaders by furnishing a fleet of trucks donated by local businessmen.

The drive is being held in cooperation with the nationwide effort of the Boy Scouts inspired by a message directed to them by Chmn. J. A. Krug of the WPB stating that special recognition in the form of Gen. Dwight (Ike) Eisenhower medals will be given to scout members participating.

Present at the meeting Thursday night were Jerry Litteer, Hamilton Day, J. H. Hemphill, Charles Oram, Floyd Beach, G. K. Jones, Walter Shugart, Warner Britschgi, Wrex Cruse, Seth Sipe, H. S. Stout, W. M. Jackson, C. C. Armstrong, who is chairman of the southern district of the San Mateo County Council, Stanley Marcus, district commissioner, Chet E. Wilson, assistant scout executive, and Frank DePatta of the city salvage commission.

Troop 104—Under the direction of L. W. Allen, scoutmaster, the last regular meeting at the Baptist Church attracted a total of 22 members. William C. Guthric passed his Tenderfoot test. Leon DeMarr was named senior patrol leader. A successful overnight hike was reported by one of the patrols.

Troop 162—Plans for the paper drive and the study of Morse code were the main features of the last meeting with 14 in attendance. William S. Lane, scoutmaster, was in charge. Games concluded the evening.

Pack 62—A total of over 50 attended the last meeting of the Pack on Feb. 22. The attendance prize for parents was won by Den 4. S. C. Sipe, cubmaster, was in charge.

Troop 149—With K. J. Wenzel, scoutmaster, in charge and with 20 members present, the feature of the last meeting was a knot tying contest.

Troop 153—H. E. Purcell, scoutmaster, supervised the last meeting of the troop which featured drill, games and stunts of physical skill. There was a total of 45 present including five new candidates for membership.

Sea Scout Ship 145—Routine business and regular drill were the main items of business of the last meeting under the direction of Skipper W. Britschgi. Nineteen were on deck.

Troop 120—With Scoutmaster Hiram S. Stout in charge of the last meeting of the troop was Dad's Night with awards being made in Tenderfoot and Second Class Scout ranks to several members. Plans were made for a court of honor at the Congregational Church, Mar. 16, and plans were completed for an overnight camp during the Easter vacation. Demonstrations were also a feature of the meeting with first aid, signalling and rope work being shown. Refreshments including ice cream, cake, and soda were served to conclude the meeting.

How to do with eggs

In times like these it's a wonderful thing to know a lot about eggs—for, properly prepared, eggs are the basis for a wide variety of delicious dishes. Listed below is a recipe that takes eggs right out of the breakfast class, but first a few tips, for the proper handling and storage of eggs is important for best results.

DO YOU KNOW?

Egg Equivalents

In most recipes calling for eggs, medium-size eggs are used as the basis for measurement.

4 to 6 whole eggs equal 1 cup
8 to 10 egg whites equal 1 cup
10 to 14 egg yolks equal 1 cup

* * *

To prevent yolk of hard cooked eggs from darkening: Remove from heat and plunge immediately into cold water.

* * *

Eggs should not be washed before storage because water removes the protective coating on the shell essential to keeping quality of eggs.

* * *

Egg yolks store well when covered with cold water, milk or salad oil; covered tightly and stored in refrigerator.

Egg whites store well when covered tightly and stored in refrigerator.

* * *

For best volume eggs should be at room temperature before beating.

* * *

Eggs should always be cooked at low temperatures as high temperatures toughen the protein.

BOILED OR SOFT CUSTARD

(A way with egg yolks)
A delicate, smooth sauce

4 egg yolks	2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar	1 tsp. vanilla
⅛ tsp. salt	extract

Beat egg yolks slightly with spoon in top of double boiler; add sugar and salt; mix well; add milk; and cook over rapidly boiling water about 10 to 15 minutes, or until mixture is slightly thickened and coats spoon, stirring occasionally. Remove from stove at once; add flavoring; and pour into cool bowl. Chill before serving. Makes 2¼ cups custard.

County Officials Check Belmont Attack Charges

Belmont and San Mateo County authorities Monday investigated the story of Mrs. Paul M. Bond, Hillman Ave., Belmont, wife of a soldier overseas, who reported that on three occasions last week she was accosted by an elderly man, "partly toothless," and that on two occasions she was struck by the man.

Mrs. Bond, mother of a 6-year-old boy and a 6-month-old girl, told Belmont Police Chief Fred E. Johnson that on Wednesday night at 10 o'clock she heard a knock. She went to the door, she said, and the man tried to get in. She screamed, however, and the man ran away.

Mrs. Bond got her father, Fred McNulty, who resides a short distance away on Mezes Ave., and he stayed with her for a while. McNulty left and about 11 o'clock the "partly toothless" man came back, forced his way through a screen door and hit her over the head and slashed her face, she declared. She said she kicked and screamed and the man fled.

On Saturday night, Mrs. Bond told Chief Johnson, she was spending the night with her parents and while in her mother's bedroom, she heard a noise. She went to the window, she said, to close an open screen, and a man "standing on his knees" slashed her chest. She said she was treated by a San Mateo physician.

Chief Johnson and Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore said they would investigate Mrs. Bond's story further.

Buttercup Named

The belief that it increased the butter content of milk led to the naming of the buttercup. It grows only on sound, dry, old pastures, which afford the best food for cows.

Woodside Boy Scouts To Aid Paper Collection

City Salvage Chmn. Frank A. DePatta announced today that Woodside Troop 159 will join Redwood City Boy Scouts in the national waste paper roundup scheduled for Apr. 8.

A special list of prizes for troops and individuals participating in the drive has been announced.

Captured First Ship

The U. S. Coast Guard was the first service to capture a British man-of-war during the war of 1812, when its cutter "Jefferson" captured the British brig "Patriot."

Judicial Council Tosses Herrscher Case to Schottky

Judge Andrew R. Schottky of Mariposa County is "in again" in the "in again-out again" Fannie Mae Herrscher estate case. He has been given a special appointment by the judicial council to sit in on the case from which Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt stepped out last week.

Announcement was made early last week that Judge Schottky would sit in on the case, but the appointment was held in abeyance after counsel for Edmond E. Herrscher, who is seeking a large share of his wife's $2,000,000 estate, interpreted remarks of Judge McNutt on Thursday to mean he would fight to stay in the case. On Monday he had voluntarily stepped down.

Joseph J. Bullock, attorney for Robert and Lindsay Howard, who last week charged Judge McNutt with bias and prejudice in favor of Herrscher, said Monday that since McNutt definitely is out of the case he sees no reason to file answer to an affidavit filed by McNutt on Friday. In the affidavit, Judge McNutt denied allegations made against him by Bullock.

Preliminary hearing on all matters pending in the long-fought Herrscher case will be held in Superior Court Department 1 next Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Two S.F. Youths Jailed On Car Theft Charge

Charged with stealing a navy pick-up truck, two San Francisco seamen were arrested on Bayshore Hwy. at Belmont by California Highay Patrolmen Monday night, it was reported today. The youths are in the county jail awaiting the arrival of San Francisco police.

Woodside Firemen Halt Roof Blaze

Painters working at the S. W. Morshead estate on Portola Rd. this morning got a hot blaze when they attempted to light an oil kitchen range.

Woodside firemen, called to the scene at 10:15 a.m. today, extinguished a blazing roof, caused when the stove backfired.

Damage was estimated at $200.

As late as 1877, the use of steel in bridge-building was prohibited in England.
